Welcome to UCI Health

When you choose UCI Health for your primary care needs, you gain access to a dedicated team of exceptional physicians committed to helping you achieve your health and wellness goals. As part of one of California's largest academic health systems, our primary care doctors collaborate closely with more than 1,000 world-renowned UCI Health specialists to provide comprehensive care for a wide range of conditions.

This commitment to integrated, patient-centered care is further reflected in the expansion of our services across Orange County. At the heart of this growth is UCI Health — Irvine, our new 1.2-million-square-foot medical campus. This innovative facility includes 800,000 square feet of clinical space and is anchored by a state-of-the-art acute care hospital, opening in 2025, as well as the region's only National Cancer Institute-designated Chao Family Comprehensive Cancer Center. The campus also features the Joe C. Wen & Family Center for Advanced Care, offering primary and specialty care, urgent care and more — all in one convenient location.

Slated to open in December 2025, the seven-story, 350,000-square-foot, 144-bed acute care hospital will usher in a new era of healthcare innovation and compassionate care. Designed to enhance healing through nature and restorative spaces, this new hospital represents our unwavering commitment to providing you and your family with world-class care, close to home.
